The Dead Sea Expedition.

The September number of the Southern Literary Messenger contains an article of profound interest on this subject, from the pen of Lieutenant M. F. Maury-the leading features of which are presented in a con- brought up nothing but chrystals. densed form in the Richmond Republican.

Lieut Maury gives a history of this expedition, brief but lucid, and which will increase the anxiety of the public to see the report of not exceed three fathoms, (18 feet.) Its Lieut. Lynch, who has made a successful sur- Southern bed has presented no chrystals, but March: vey, and who, we are glad to learn, is expected to return soon to this country.

We learn from Lieut. Maury's article that this expedition was planned by Lieut. Lynch, chrystalization. and authorized by Secretary Mason, both Lynch, first addressed the Secretary on the subject, recommending a circumnavigation ruption. and exploration of the Dead Sea, and its entire coast, stating that the expense would be trifling, as our ships frequently touched at Acre, in Syria, forty miles from Lake Tiberias, or Sea of Galilee, from which the river Jordan runs and debouches into the first named sea; that the frame of a boat with crew and provision could be transported on cammels from Acre to Tiberias, and there put together again. Only one traveller, Mr. Costigan, had ever circumnavigated the Dead Sea, and he died at the termination of his voyage, without leaving any Journal of notes. behind. It is contended also that independent of the eager curiosity of all Christendom in regard to this mysterious lake, this expedition was of value to the interests of naviga-

The Secretary of the Navy received favorably the proposition of Lieut. Lynch, and an opportunity soon occurred, by which it could be conveniently carried into effect. It was "that the distance from the top to the bottom necessary to send a store ship to the Mediterrancan Squadron, and, as after her arrival, she would have no employment for months, nean, and the difference of level between the the Secretary determined to send Lieut. Lynch and his party in her, so that, after meeting the wants of the Squadron, she could proceed up the Levant, and land Lieut. Lynch and his

This was done. The store-ship, the "Supply," was supplied with two metallic boats, one of copper, the other of iron—the former named "Fanny Mason" and the latter "Fanny Skinner.

On their arrival at their destination their troubles began, and in their march to Lake Tiberias their boats had to be transported a narrow ravine running through it, corresover the most formidable mountain gorges one extremity, and the Wady 'el Jeib,' or and heights, and to be lowered down precipices with ropes. But these difficulties were surmounted with true sailor shill and perseverance, and on the 8th of April the two Fannies, each with the American ensign flying, were affoat upon the beautiful blue waters of the sea of Galilee. After the survey of the sea, the party proceeded to determine the height of mountains on its shores, and to run a level thence via Jerusalem to the Mediterranean. They November: 1 2 3 6 31 4 56 found the summit of the West bank of the Dead Sea more than 1,000 feet above its surface, and very nearly level with the Medit- December.

"It is a curious fact," says Lieut. Maury, of the Dead Sea, should measure the height of its banks, the elevation of the Mediterrabottom of the two seas, and that the depth of the Dead Sea should also be an exact multiple of the height of Jerusalem above it." Another not less singular fact, in the opinion of Lieut. Lynch, "is that the bottom of the Dead Sea forms two submerged plains, an elevated and a depressed one. The first, its southern part, of slimy mud covered by a shallow bay; the last, its northern and largest portion, of mud incrustations and rectangular chrystals of salt-at a great depth with ponding with the bed of the river Jordan at

We have given this condensed view of that the interest of the subject will excuse us in the eyes of our readers for abstracting so much space from politics. Lieut. Lynch's report will be eagerly awaited by the public. We wish the gallant and accomplished officer

INDIANA STATE SENTINEL: -A GAZETTE OF THE PEOPLE-

Office on Illinois Street, North of Washington.

BY CHAPMANS & SPANN.

(The State Sentinel will contain a much larger amount of reading matter, on all subjects of general interest, than any other newspaper in Indiana.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY EDITION Is published every Wednesday and Saturday, and during the session of the Legislature, three times a week, on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, at

Four Dollars a year, payable always in advance. THE WEEKLY EDITION s published every Thursday, at Two Dollars a year, always to be paid in advance. $1 in advance will pay for six months.

* *Persons remitting $10 in advance, free of postage, shall have three copies of the Semi-Weekly one year. $2 will pay for six months. $1 will always be charged for the Tri-Weekly, and 50 cents for the Weekly, during the L-gislative sessions.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted three times at $1 a square of eight lines, and be continued at the rate of twenty five cents a square for each additional insertion. Quarterly advertisements, per square, $3. All advertisements from abroad must be accompanied by the cash, or no attention will be paid to them. (Postage must be paid.

THE GLOBE: A Congressional, Agricultural, and Literary Newspaper. HE Editors of the Congressional Globe propose a new pullication. To deserve the patronage which Congress has accorded to their reports of its debates, to receiving and making the Globe the official register, they intend to add promptitude to whatever merit has hitherto recommended the work. They will putlish a Daily Globe, to record the proceedings and debates as they occur; and a Congressional Glo e periodically, as heretofere, embodying the reports of Congress separate from the miscellaneous matter which will accompany them in the axily print. To all the sheet of the daily newspaper, it is designed to guther the news from all quarters, and complete the contents by drawing from every source that may le of most interest among literary novelties, and of greatest utility in scientific and practical works on agriculture. For material, the leading journals and periodicals of France and Great Britain, treating of such su jects, will ne consulted, and, it is hoped, advantageously used. Original essays, especially on topics connected with agriculture, will be obtained from the most enlightened and practical men of our The Globe, as a newspaper, and as a vehicle of jeformation and musement in other respects, will be under the charge of Francis BLAIR and James C. Piccerr. The congressional department. and business concerns of the paper will be under the management of Jons C. Rives. The public are familiar with Blair and Rives as connected with the press. In introducing Mr. Pickett as one of the concern, they will be allowed to say a few words of him. He is a gentleman favoral ly known to the Government, for the talent and judgment which distinguished his diplomatic service while connected with the mission to Quito; and more recently when Charge d'Affairs to Peru. From his pen mainly the Globe will derive the selections and translations from the French journals and periodicals, the comments on them, and the other literary articles, which will be found among its chief attractions.

The Globe will be published daily during the session of Congress, and weekly the balance of the year, and will undergo disribution to the form of a Weekly Globe, a Congressional Globe, and an Appendix. The Weekly Globe will be the vehicle of the miscellaneous articles of the daily print, with a synopsis of the Congressional pro-The Congressional Globe will embody, as it has done for the last sixteen years, Congressional proceedings and debates exclu-The Appendix will embrace the revised speeches separately, and the messages of the President of the United States, and the reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments.
